ANTI-TRAFFICKING TRAINING

THIS IS AN IMPORTANT TRAINING INITIATIVE AIMED AT EDUCATING TEAMS OF SERVICE PROVIDERS ACROSS ONTARIO TO BETTER SUPPORT SURVIVORS OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING.

FACTS

- The Temporary Resident Permit (TRP) program is the only federal service available specifically to secure immigration status for victims / survivors of human trafficking in Canada.
- Experiences of human trafficking not only have serious impacts on survivors' physical well being, but also integrally affect their psychological and emotional well being. As a result, mental health support is an essential component of recovery and to regaining a sense of control.

BENEFITS WORKSHOP

- Access to crucial training material
- Identify and provide better services to women and girls who had been trafficked
- Increase access to legal education
- Learn the ins and outs of the TRP application process, the advantages and disadvantages, the services covered and obstacles encountered.
- Offering Mental Health Support to Victims/Survivors of Human Trafficking.

2

INFORMATION TRAINING FOR ESL TEACHERS AND SUPPORT STAFF ACROSS ONTARIO

The trainings are for English as a Second Language (ESL) teachers and support staff, to better equip them to respond to issues related to immigration and human rights, including the refugee process. As a result, migrant populations studying English will gain greater access to legal information and resources as they navigate Canadian systems.

The workshops can cover the following issues identified by ESL students:

- Right to work (obtaining a work permit, labour regulations, etc)
- Housing (landlord/tenant, homestay, etc)
- Immigration (renewing visas, regularizing, sponsorship, etc)
- Health (access to health, payment, IFHP/OHIP, etc)
- Volunteering (finding volunteer work, police checks, etc)
- Criminal law (Canadian law, fighting tickets, petty crimes, etc)
- Violence (experiences of abuse, child welfare, access to family law, etc)
- Discrimination (information for LGBTQ, fighting racism, discrimination, etc)

A service provided by:
FCJ Refugee Centre

Responding to community needs, this is a training for frontline workers in Toronto that serve non-status and precarious migrant populations.

Following the City motion that was passed last year to open up City services to anyone regardless of status, several gaps and disservices have been identified. Through the workshops you can have up-to-date information about those services

Alternatives to DETENTION

To be released from detention on Provision of a guarantor:

- Toronto Bail program... in this regards, the FCJ Refugee Centre provides supporting housing and other services for people that are released from immigration detention (support, applying for work permits and health coverage, accompaniment to appointments, encouraging reporting to CBSA, etc).
- Family member, friends, NGO, community group, faith group.
- Sometimes... Shelters, Refugee Houses, Refugee Centres and other similar organizations which are one good alternative with the concept of home-residences served by social service workers.
